“3-to-5” Homework Program

Independent Studies Division

What are our Program Offerings?

Daily Checkout Program

Immediately after school, students come to the Learning Lab and a teacher personally checks their homework book for completeness. This program runs Mon. – Thur., 3pm – 3:15pm. and Friday 12:15pm – 12:30pm.

“3-to-5” Homework Program

This afterschool study hall provides a supervised space where students can complete homework with a teacher on-hand who can answer homework questions and check homework books for completeness. The program is offered with various combinations Mon. – Thurs., 3pm – 5pm.

Tutoring

Single subject tutoring is available on campus for students looking for extra guidance from one of our faculty members. Availability is limited.

Educational Mentoring

This unique program is available to all students at The Grauer School who desire private mentoring and/or educational and organizational assistance. This is open to full-time Grauer School students ONLY, and enrollment is limited.

The Mentoring Program is specially designed to meet a student’s needs and typically focuses on organization, study skills, and educational gaps. With that said, equally important social, homework, and tutoring issues may be addressed. The emphasis is based on family requests, teacher recommendations, and standardized test scores.

Mentoring placement is one-on-one pending mentor availability and student schedule. “Ed Mentoring” sessions are scheduled during a student’s “free” period during the school day. Availability for after school mentoring is limited.

When does it start and end?

3-to-5 and Daily Checkout begin as early as the first week of school.

Educational Mentoring assignments are made between the first and second week of the academic year. Sessions will start during the second or third week of the year.

All programs continue through Finals Review Week each semester. Families may start pro-rated services later in the year as availability allows.
